Figura 1: A graph showing some characters and its relationships found in Russian classic War and Peace.

War and Peace is a russian classic written by Leo Tolstoy. It is during the maelstrom of Napoleon's ill-fated invasion of Russia. This masterpiece focuses on the inner lives and compelling actions of five families, as their country and worldview splinter and evolve around them. Even though there are more than 500 characters in this novel, I centered my attention in the most relevant ones, picturing its relations and military/social ties.
